

I think that the "N.J. Do Not Call List" should remain strict and should not be weakened. I don't think that the FCC should be concerned with the interests of telemarketers who abuse the privacy of the general public. The disregard of the rights of the general public in favor of a special interest group is typical of federal agencies who themselves have agendas that are at the expense of the citizens they are supposed to be serving.